Best Practices: High School Transitions and Inclusive Work for Students with Disabilities.

Dr. Paul Wehman

Virginia Commonwealth University
Vancouver, British Columbia
September 20 & 21 2010

CBI Consultants is pleased to announce:

Dr. Paul Wehman of Virginia Commonwealth University will be presenting the most current research and practice on inclusive real work for real pay for students with disabilities during the high school years. Dr. Wehman is a pioneer of inclusive employment practices for students with disabilities and was voted one of the top 10 special educators of the millennium.

Topics for this one day workshop include:

- ⇒ Person Centered High School Transition plans beginning at 14 years of age that focus on real work for real pay during the high school years.
- ⇒ Self Determination Instruction and Self Directed IEP's will also be a focus.

Community Living British Columbia (CLBC) and the Ministry of Housing and Social Development (MHSD) have been collaborating with agencies and school districts throughout the province of British Columbia to make inclusive real work for real pay a reality for students with disabilities. The goal is to have all students with disabilities graduating from high school with at least one real job for real pay on their resume. CBI Consultants is one of the agencies in British Columbia funded by CLBC and MHSD to demonstrate Customized/ Inclusive Employment practices in action.

During this one day workshop, panel discussions will be the focus of the afternoon with British Columbia examples of collaborative employment practices and real work for real pay during the high school years.

A dynamic day with examples of research in action from British Columbia and the United States. The venue, costs and registration forum will be confirmed in the next month. The date is secure. E-mail CBI Consultants at the following address to get on the preliminary registration list and we will send you the registration flyer with details as soon as it is available.

Dr. Wehman will also be presenting on September 21st (Conversion Strategies for adult service agencies).

- ⇒ Shifting from traditional segregated day services for young adults with disabilities to inclusive employment and services without walls
- ⇒ Collaborative inclusive partnerships with high schools and the high school transition process
